was impossible for all the stockholders to ge hat the conclusion of Mr. Wetmore's statement, a motion was made to adjourn to Tammany Hall, a was impossible for all the stockholders to ge hat the room. A committee was accordingly appointed to inquire if the Hall could be obtained, and, after a brief absence, they reported favorably. The stockholders then proceeded in a body to the Hall, where the business was resumed.

Mr. Wetmore—It has been suggested to me that perhaps the meeting would devise some mode by which the loss caused by the over issue would be made to fall upon the preferred stock, and the stockholders holding the preferred stock should decide upon the question how it shall be settled with regard to the different kinds of stock which they hald.

Mr. Hamilton offered a resolution to the effect when the question how it shall be settled with regard to the different kinds of stock which they hold.

Mr. Hamilton offered a resolution to the effect that the preferred stock be retried by an issue of bonds for the purpose of taking it up. He said he merely offered this, not for the purpose of expressing any opinion or views, but that the meeting might have a distinct proposition before them.

A Member desired to know whether any of the stock could be traced; when

Mr. Wetmone said that Mr. Kyle had issued about three hundred shares of the old stock, which he pledged to different people, and had borrowed money on. These, he added, are the shares that we can lay our finger on.

A Members—Did the company pay a dividend on any of this stock?

Mr. Wetmone—No, sir. The investigation was made by Mr. Vandenhoff and one of the clerks in the United States Trust Company. It is for the interest of the stockholders that the over issue should be assumed, because it will bear so lightly upon us all. My opinion is that we had better suffer this loss than to have any litigation upon the subject. (Applanse.)

Mr. D. W. Pardes—If I understand the gentleman correctly there is a desire on the part of some to adopt all that which can and all that which cannot be traced. Now, I say it is not in the legal power of this company to assume this stock. It is no more their right than it is the right of the wife to intreduce a parcel of children into her family that are not her own. The only way this matter can be settled is by judicial investigation, for it is in the power of any of the stockholders to come hereafter and resist your proceedings. I have a confiding hith that a proper examination of these books would put us in possession of a great deal more light than we have at present. I balieve it is proper mow for this meeting to appoint a committee, in whem they have confidence, to investigate the books. (Applanse.) I would like also to have the point on of same competent lawyer in regard to it.

A Member said that he considered the withdrew his resolution.

Mr. Parder moved that a committee of five be appointed to investigate the books of the company, with an amendment of Mr. D. A. Wheeler, increasing the number to thirteen, and excluding the directors from serving upon it.

The motion was adopted, and the fellowing gentlemen were appointed:
